

Component Shortage Solutions

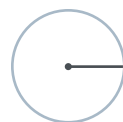

Eliminate disruptions in your supply chain

Supply chain management – based on market intelligence and experience.

In 2020, more than 50% of electronics manufacturing companies reported component shortages and production delays. Early indications are that these disruptions may only get worse in 2021 as several manufactures have shut down production solely due to component shortages.

To help reduce disruptions, Velocity provides integrated and customized inventory management programs, strategic procurement management, warehousing, and logistics that are designed to reduce total material procurement and administrative costs, increase inventory turns, and improve cash-to-cash cycle times.

Don't let your component shortage needs slow you down.

We've got answers

Velocity Electronics is the answer to progressive thinking manufacturers searching for an effective solution to component shortages.

Through access to our in-stock inventory located in our global distribution centers, our worldwide network of qualified suppliers, and the speed and global reach of our proprietary sourcing software, Velocity Market Search (VMS), we fulfill our customers' most challenging component requirements. Our strategically positioned global sourcing teams work around the clock to locate the parts you need.

If your company is experiencing supply disruptions, Velocity's solutions are easy, reliable, and can deliver immediate, tangible value to your supply chain.

World Class Quality

Leaders in quality conformance

Implementing the most comprehensive quality inspection protocols

Providing the highest level of confidence

Global Distribution

Leveraging existing regional Inspection and Distribution Centers (IDCs) in Austin, Amsterdam, and Singapore for inspection, storage and global distribution coverage.

Also employing Proximity Warehouses where required.

Superior Sourcing

Fulfilling the most your most challenging component requirements by:

Tapping our worldwide network of qualified suppliers

Accessing in-stock inventory

Using the speed and global reach of our proprietary sourcing software

Supply Chain Solutions

We provide integrated and custom solutions designed to:

Reduce your procurement and administrative costs

Increase cash-to-cash cycle times

Significantly reduce your internal overhead costs